Cat is a visual artist and writer, of Haitian descent, based out of New Orleans. Originally from Miami, she left at 23 and traveled for 5 years. While nearing the end of her travels, she began upon a journey of healing from her past trauma. Following a dream's advice, she settled down in New Orleans, where she began weaving all of her experiences into a unique tapestry of healing, facilitation, arts, curation, intention, and vulnerability.

Residency Work

naked. an open mic without the mic a monthly gathering of poetry, spoken word, music, food, and vendors to celebrate and support vulnerability wolf circles

a woman's group of discussion, sharing, and whatever else organically comes up. It is an exploration of a non-hierarchal framework, with the intention of unanimous support that looks within and without versus emulation of a leader.
